

Natalia
Soboleva

Natalia Soboleva holds a PhD in Economic Sociology and Demography (National Research University Higher School of Economics, Moscow). She is Senior Research Fellow at the Laboratory for Comparative Social Research and Senior Lecturer at the Graduate School of Business Higher School of Economics in Moscow.

She is National Program Director of EVS in Russia since 2016. She was also involved in data collection (preparation of documents, communication with the field agency) for the last wave of WVS in Russia.

She was a member of the Scientific Committee of the First International Workshop of EVS2017 in 2019 in Tbilisi (Georgia). In early 2020 Natalia joined the Standing Group of European Values Study where she leads the substantive review of the work domain of the EVS questionnaire. Recently, she has been invited to join the Editorial Board of the EVS- Brill Series.

Her research interests include gender role attitudes, work values, life and job satisfaction, subjective well-being. Her work has been published in International and Russian journals including Journal of Happiness Studies, Monitoring of Public Opinion: Economic and Social Changes and Journal of Educational studies, and presented in international conferences. In 2017 she has become a prizewinner of the Elizabeth H. Nelson Prize for the best paper from a society in transition for paper "Work Values and Job Preferences in Europe: Gender Aspect".